In Aleksandrov /5624N-3845E/, Vladimirskaya Oblast, a town of about 30,000 people, the Radiozavod /radio Factory/ manufactures radio receivers, radio transmitters, electromotors and general radio equipment. It holds third place in production of this kind in the Soviet Union. The plant employs about 10,000 men and young women.

2. In Kolichugino /5618N-3921E/, Vladimirskaya Oblast, about 140 kms from Moscow, is the large nonferrous metal plant, Zavod Tsvetnykh Metallov. Aluminum, copper and tungsten alloys are made there. It also produces duraluminum for airplanes. Most of their skilled employees are graduates of a four-year technical school 'Tekhnikum', as are also other specialists in nonferrous metals. The employees are very well paid, and the work is secret. Many employees do not know the purpose of their work. The plant employs around 20,000 workers, and consists of a number of low, rambling buildings covered with glass roofs. These buildings are only about four meters high.
